HARTFORD, Conn., March 16.

Henry C. Ward, appointed a traveling agent of the North American Five Centime Company, has been arrested in Cleveland on a charge of forgery committed in 1881. The company have revoked his commission. He is said to have forfeited his bonds and to have left for parts unknown.

PHILADELPHIA, March 16.

District Centre Andrew Wayne has ordered a series of Jubilee meetings to be held each evening during next week. In all parts of the State in favor of supporting Stephens and O'Mahony, the whole to conclude with a grand demonstration on the 23d inst. The most prominent Fenian speakers are expected to address the meetings.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.

The steamer America, of the Nicaragua line, sailed to-day with a large number of passengers. Two steamers sailed to-day for Portland, Oregon, carrying a large load of passengers, and freight destined for the Montana and Idaho mines.

The remains of a man have been found on the mountains of Oakland. They are supposed to be those of Prof. T. G. Pattery, of Pennsylvania, who has been missed from this city since September last.

The steamer Sierra Nevada has arrived from Portland, Oregon, bringing $30,500 in treasure. Mining stocks are irregular.

WASHINGTON, March 16.

Robert Dale Owen appeared before the House Committee on Foreign Affairs and argued in favor of the proposition to guarantee the interest of fifty millions of Mexican bonds. He disclaimed all connection with the Government of Mexico in regard to the matter, but believed it was the duty of the Government of the United States to assist a neighboring Republic which was struggling for its existence against the machinations of a monarchical despotism.

New York, March 16.

President Johnson has determined to have 40,000 colored troops now stationed at the South mustered out within the coming month.

The cases of alleged frauds by the whisky distillers were called up this morning, but on the request of the defendants it was agreed to postpone the cases to Friday, the 23d inst.

New York, March 16.

The stock market is less active, but firm. The speculative movement is extending over more stocks. Governments are still strong and active, and especially S-Bs.

The case in money increases. Mercantile deposits are steadily augmenting, and it is found difficult to employ all the loanable. Bankers have no difficulty in borrowing on call at six per cent, though many lenders still ask six per cent. Some large loans are held at 6 1/2 per cent, but do not find buyers, 7 per cent being minimum for prime names; good pass at half per cent.

The gold market is again weak, apparently owing to the fact that the bears have almost ceased buying their short contracts. Quoted at 130 1/2-131 1/4.

Foreign exchange is extremely dull. There is an enlarged supply for cotton bills; the sales for which are correspondingly low and very irregular. Sterling bills range at 105 1/2-106 1/4. Paris Bourse 60 days sterling is quoted at 108 1/4, but we hear of no transactions at over 108 1/4, and probably 108 may be considered the sale for a heavy amount.

XXXIXth Congress—First Session.

HOUSE—March 16.

Mr. Pile, of Iowa, asked leave to offer the following resolution:

Whereas a difference of opinion and conflict of views exists between the Secretary of the Treasury and the Controller of the Currency which has assumed a shape calculated to injure the financial interests of the country; therefore be it Resolved, that a committee of three members of this House be appointed to investigate the cause of the difficulty and report to the House.

Mr. Boutwell objected unless the resolution was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means, and the resolution was again read.

Mr. Ross objected saying he thought it better that the inquiry should be made by the Finance Committee.

Mr. Price said that the gentleman's colleague, Mr. Wentworth, had challenged him yesterday to introduce such a resolution.

Mr. Ross—I should rather be, Mr. Wentworth should be chairman of such committee than you, I object.

Mr. Kealey, of Missouri, introduced a bill to authorize the establishment of Ocean Mail Steamship service between the ports of Charleston, S. C. and Liverpool, by way of Queenstown, Great Britain, which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Post Offices.

Mr. Taylor, of N. Y., introduced a resolution, which was adopted, directing the Secretary of War to report to the Committee in relation to the purchase of the steamship Illinois. Also the names of the appraisers appointed by the Quartermaster General and Secretary of War.

Mr. Stevens, of Pa., asked leave to introduce a resolution instructing the Committee on Claims to enquire what disposition should be made of the publication called "Annals of Congress," deposited by Gale Station, under an alleged contract with the House; and to determine whether the same or any part of them shall be retained and at what price they shall be paid for.

Mr. Wilson objected.

Mr. Davis presented papers in the contested election case of Fuller vs. Dawson, which was referred to the Committee on Elections.

Mr. Hubbard offered a resolution, which was adopted, instructing the Committee on Indian Affairs to enquire into the expediency of concentrating the different tribes of the Dakota or Sioux Indians on one reservation.

Mr. Holbrook, of Idaho, introduced bills to establish a post route from Idaho City to Rocky Mountain, in the territory of Idaho, and to create the office of Surveyor General of that territory, which were read twice and referred.

Mr. Bradford, of Colorado, introduced a bill in relation to the Colorado land districts, which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Territories.

Mr. Henderson presented a joint resolution of the State of Oregon in reference to establishing a port of entry at Portland, in reference to the provisional government of that State, and in reference to a daily mail route to the territory of Idaho, which were appropriately referred.

Mr. Hayes, of Ohio, introduced a joint resolution to constitute the fourth section of the Army Appropriation bill for the year ending June 30th, 1886, so as to entitle to three months' pay provided for therein, to all officers and volunteers below the rank of Brigadier General who were in the service at least three years and whose resignations were presented and accepted before the surrender of Lee in April, 1865, which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

The Speaker proceeded to call Committees for reports of a private character.

SENATE—March 16.

Mr. Wade presented a petition for equal rights and the abolition of all distinctions on account of color by constitutional amendment, which was referred to the Committee on Reconstruction.

Mr. Sumner presented the petition of the dress makers of New York and Brooklyn complaining of the injustice of the tax upon their business, which was referred to the Committee on Finance.

On motion of Mr. Chandler, Thursday next was set apart for the consideration of bills from the Committee on Commerce.

Mr. Wilson introduced a joint resolution providing that the act entitled "An act supplementary to the several Acts relating to pensions, approved March 30th, 1865," shall not hereafter be so construed as to deprive invalid pensioners, or the widows or heirs of any person who has served in the army or navy during the late war, of the pensions to which they are entitled by reason of holding any office under the Government; provided that the compensation received from the United States as pay or salary does not exceed $800 per annum. Referred to the Committee on Pensions.

Mr. Wilson introduced a joint Resolution appropriating $50,000 for the publication of the Medical and Surgical History of the War of the Rebellion. Referred to the Committee on Printing.

Mr. Harris, from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported back with amendments the bill to recognize the Judiciary of the United States. A number of the amendments are in the form of additional sections incorporated in the body of the bill.

Section six provides that executions may be issued out of any District Court to collect any judgment or decree in the Circuit Court for such district with the same effect as such executions may be issued out of the Circuit Court.

Section twelve provides that to render an appeal from the District Court to the Circuit Court effective for any purpose, a bond shall be executed on behalf of the appellant to the effect that the appellant will pay all costs which may be awarded against him on the appeal, not exceeding $250. If the appeal be from a judgment or decree directing the payment of the money, it shall not stay the execution, unless a bond is given that if the appeal be dismissed the amount of the judgment shall be paid. Such bonds shall be of no effect unless the securities make affidavit that they are worth double the amount specified over and above all liabilities; in other words, a stay of execution may be granted upon such terms as any judgment of the Court may prescribe.

Section thirteen, provides that cases in any Circuit Court on the said first day of September upon an appeal or writ of error shall be transferred to the proper Court of Appeals, and shall be heard and determined by such Court according to the provisions of this act. In the original bill duty is stricken out wherever it occurs and September inserted.

A Burning Well Forty Years Ago.

A gentleman residing in Washington city, who has a penchant for old papers, recently made a discovery which will no doubt prove interesting to those who may wish to write a history of the oil districts of Western Pennsylvania. While searching through an old file of the National Intelligencer, his eyes fell upon the following paragraph:

"GREENSBURG, Jan. 24, 1823.

On Friday morning the 17th inst., while Messrs. John Klingensmith, Sr., Philip Klingensmith, and Nicholas Long were engaged in the boring at the Salt Well, four miles north-west of this place, they were terribly burnt by fluid which oozed out from the well coming in contact with a small quantity of fire near the spot at the time. We have gathered the following particulars from one of the unfortunate men: The auger was at the depth of 400 feet, on a hard rock, when it suddenly gave way, and the water forced up by the gas was thrown upon the fire, and exploded, similar to that of gunpowder. Philip was burnt the worst, being nearest the well at the time, and was unable to move until assisted by others. Their faces and arms were shockingly burnt, and but poor hopes were entertained of their recovery until Sunday, when the fire was extracted from the wounds and the pain in some measure ceased. The gas continued to burn until Monday last, and defied every effort to extinguish it until then. The auger was raised about 300 feet out of the well, and the little house which covered the works was burnt to ashes."

How strange it is that Petroleum made itself known to the people of Westernland county over forty years ago, and yet the men of that generation were too dull to "take the hint." But we suppose it was all the better "for us."

—The editor of a country paper put a dozen silly questions to a political opponent, and concluded with calling him a brassy reprobate. Whereupon the "opponent" retorted, "If he had that opinion of me, no wonder he is so fond of pumping me."
